YOUR COURSE

This qualification reflects the role of individuals who use sound knowledge of event management processes and a broad range of skills to coordinate event operations. They operate independently and make operational event management decisions.

Participants undertaking the Diploma of Event Management will be required to undertake vocational placement and develop and manage a minimum of two (2) events of their own as these will form part of your assessment. This will require you to work (unpaid) through vocational placement or be working in an events environment.

Skilled but not qualified

Looking for a new job, a promotion, career change, a pay rise or just to have a qualification?

If you have the knowledge and skills but don't hold a nationally recognised qualification to back it up, this may be holding you back from gaining employment or progressing in your career.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is a process where you demonstrate that you currently have the required skills and knowledge, to gain a nationally recognised qualification. RPL focuses on your life and work experiences and how they meet the criteria of the national qualifications.

Through your industry experiences you may be able to gain a full or partial qualification.

If you are choosing to work within the events industry for the first time, then we can offer a range of learning styles to meet your needs. Delivery will be a combination of online and flexible learning. Have access to one of our industry trainers who will assist you each step of the way.

If you are wanting to study or RPL, contact one of our course consultants to arrange a convenient time to assist you to explore the best study option for you and to ensure that you receive the right qualification for your desired career path.
